

From the New York Evangelist.

Mr. Editor—A friend of mine read to me from her scrap book, "The Gardener and the Rose-tree." At my request she has been so obliging as to transcribe it, that I might offer it for publication. My friend could not tell its origin. If among your readers there are mothers who shed tears over the cold remains of a lovely infant, they will be grateful to you for complying with my request. Yours, J.R.J.

The Gardener and the Rose-tree.

In a sweet spot, which Wisdom chose,
Grew a unique and lovely Rose;
A flower so fair was seldom born—
A Rose, almost without a thorn.

As months rolled on, the spring appeared,
Its genial rays the Rose matured;
Forth from its root a shoot extended—
The parent Rose-tree downward bends:

"Offspring most dear," she fondly said,
"Part of myself"—beneath my shade
Safe shalt thou rise, whilst happy I,
Transported with maternal joy,
Shall see thy little buds appear,
Unfold and bloom in beauty here."

Thus had the Rose-tree scarcely spoken,
Ere the sweet cup of bliss was broken—
The Gardener came, and with one stroke,
He from the root the offspring took;
Deep was the wound, nor slight the pain,
Which made the Rose-tree thus complain:

"Dear little darling! art thou gone—
Thy charms scarce to thy mother known!
Removed so soon!—so suddenly
Snatched from my fond maternal eye!
What hast thou done, dear offspring, say,
So early to be snatched away?
What! gone forever! seen no more!
Forever I thy loss deplore?"

As thus the anguished Rose-tree cried,
Her owner near her she espied,
Who in these gentle terms reproved
A plant, though murruring, still beloved:

"Cease, beautiful flower, those useless cries,
And let my lesson make thee wise.
Art thou not mine? Did not my hand
Transplant thee from the barren sand?
Where once a mean, unsightly plant,
Exposed to injury and want;
Unknown, and unadmired, I found
And brought thee to this fertile ground;
With studious art improved thy form,
Secured thee from the inclement storm;
And through the seasons of the year,
Made thee my darling and my care?
But now, because thy shoot I've taken,
Thy best of friends must be forsaken.
Think not that hidden from thine eyes,
The infant plant neglected lies—
No! I've another garden, where
In richer soil, and purer air,
It's now transplanted, there to shine
In beauties fairer far than thine.
Nor shalt thou always be apart
From the dear darling of thy heart,
For 'tis my purpose thee to bear
In future time, and plant thee there,
Where thy new abode offspring grows,
And blossoms a celestial Rose."

These words to silence hushed the plaintive Rose,
With deeper blushes reddening, now she glows,
Submissively bowed her unrepining head,
Again her wonted, grateful fragrance shed—
Cried, "Thou hast taken only what's thine own,
Therefore thy will, my Lord, not mine, be done."

BEAUTIFUL PASSAGE.—Life bears us on the current of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channel, through the little brooks and grassy borders. The trees shed their young blossoms over our young head, the flowers on the brink seem to woo our young hands; we are happy in hope; and we grasp eagerly at the beauties around us both sides, and still our hands are empty.

Our course in manhood is along a wider and deeper flood, and amid objects more striking and magnificent. We are animated by the moving picture of enjoyment and industry which passes before us, we are excited by some short lived disappointment. But our energy and dependence are both in vain.

The stream bears us on: our griefs and joys are alike left behind us, we may be shipwrecked, but we cannot be delayed; whether rough or smooth, the river hastens toward its home, till the roaring of the ocean is in our ears and the tossing of its waters beneath our keels, and the lands lessen from our eyes, and the floods are lifted up around us, and the earth loses sight of us, and we take our last leave of earth and its inhabitants, and of our future voyage there is no witness but the Infinite and Eternal.—Bishop Heber.

Boston Ladies eighty years ago.—We find in the American Annals, an account of the anniversary of a society for Encouraging Industry, held in 1753, on which occasion Boston Common presented a novel sight.—

"In the afternoon, about three hundred female spinners, decently dressed, appeared on the common at their spinning wheels.—The wheels were placed regularly in three rows, and a female was seated at each wheel. The weavers also appeared cleanly dressed, in garments of their own weaving. One of them, working at a loom on the stage, was carried on men's shoulders, attended with music. An immense number of spectators were present at this interesting spectacle.—The Rev. Dr Cooper preached a discourse, and a collection was made for the benefit of the constitution.

Ladies of Boston, whirling three hundred spinning wheels! These were afterwards the matrons who refused British tea—and who never saw a piano. Wonder if a thousand delicate ladies could not now be seen in the city, at their pianos, where one old fashioned rosy damsel could be found at the healthy exercise of the spinning wheel!

ANECDOTE.—A man in Indiana, who is a Van Buren man, and a merchant, was much infested with mice in his store. He procured a trap, and told his little boy to set it for the "d-d Whigs," as he called them. The boy did so, but on returning to the trap in the morning, he had caught a mole. He caught it up and ran into the house, saying "daddy, I have caught a Jackson man!" exclaimed the father, "How so?" "Why daddy, it has no eyes like the little whigs; but it has a large snout, and the place where the eyes ought to be is covered with skin-plasters."

Democracy of the Olden Time.—Of the N. York Electors who cast the vote of this State for Thomas Jefferson in 1800, three only are living. They are John Woodward of this city, James Bart of Orange, and Gen. Pierce Van Courlandt of Westchester. They are all Whigs.—New Yorker.

Valuable School Books.

THE subscriber has received for sale, a fresh supply of the celebrated FRANKLIN SERIES OF SCHOOL BOOKS, consisting of the Franklin Primer, the Improved Reader, the General Class Book, and the Popular Reader.—4 books in all.

Of these Books it may be remarked, that they have been critically examined by our most able Teachers and most distinguished literary men, and are pronounced, in their adaptation to the wants of Common Schools for which they are particularly designed, as among the most valuable Books published in the United States. They are extensively used, and with the happiest results wherever they have been introduced. No school should be without them; and they will abundantly repay, in the superior improvement of the scholar, the trifling expense that is laid out in procuring them. Another of the excellences of this series of Books is their comparative cheapness. The whole set, including the Popular Reader, which is a bound volume of between 3 and 400 pages, neatly printed on fine paper, costs at retail less than $1.50.

In relation to this set of Books it may be proper here (as it illustrates their peculiar character) to give the remark of a gentleman of Philadelphia, made at the Teachers' Convention in Andover, Mass.—says this person, "I not long since attended the examination of a school in Philadelphia, where the Franklin Primer, the Improved Reader, and the General Class Book had been but a short time introduced, and I was astonished at the great change which had been effected, not only in the manner of reading, but in the interest which the pupils manifested in their lessons. They were examined through a large portion of the Books, and such promptness and deep interest I have seldom seen evinced in any school."

Moffat's Life Pills

AND PHOENIX BITTERS.

The first operation is to loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels, the various impurities and crudities constantly settling around them; and to remove the hardened feces which collect in the convolutions of the small intestines. Other medicines only partially cleanse these and leave such collected masses behind, as to produce habitual costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudden diarrhoea, with its imminent dangers. This fact is well known to all regular anatomists, who examine the human bowels after death;—and hence the prejudice of these well informed men against the quick medicines of the age.

The second effect of the VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS is to cleanse the kidneys and the bladder, and by this means, the liver and the lungs, the healthful action of which entirely depends upon the regularity of urinary organs. The blood which takes its color from the agency of the liver and the lungs before it passes into the heart, being thus purified by them, and nourished by food coming from a clean stomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming cheek.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—Those who have tried thoroughly my medicines, must be convinced of the theory, a good vegetable medicine is far preferable to the almost universal resort of our regular physicians, to preparations from mercury or calomel. As I have said a thousand times, I do not pretend to perform miracles with the Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters—I merely contend that they are purely vegetable preparations, prepared with due care by a skillful hand; and that in all cases of illness, no matter what the character of the disease, such a medicine should be preferred to all others.—

In nineteen cases out of twenty, if resorted to in season, a speedy cure will be the result.—The reason of this is very plain. Being composed of the most approved vegetable ingredients, these medicines act powerfully upon the secretions, tend to purify the blood, and thus equalize the distribution throughout the system.

But to the CAUTION. I warn all persons, and especially those who take my medicines, against Bleeding and Leeching. This very prevalent practice sends many, otherwise healthy persons, to an untimely grave and others are rendered invalids for life. Bleeding and Leeching should only be performed in aggravated cases, when all other remedies have failed to produce relief. People are generally too reticent when unwell. They should follow up a rational course of medicine, and relief will be almost certain, sooner or later, according to the violence of the attack, or the constitution of the invalid. Reader! follow the above advice on one solitary occasion—I will stake my reputation on the result.

N.B.—These Pills and the Bitters will get all mercury out of the system infinitely faster than the best preparations of Sarsaparilla, and are a certain remedy for the rushing of blood to the head, or all violent headaches, tic douloureux, &c. All persons who are predisposed to apoplexy, palsy, &c. should never be without the Life Pills or the Bitters, for one dose in time will save life. They equalize the circulation of the blood, draw all pressure from the head, restore perspiration, and throw off every impurity by the pores of the skin.

In some obstinate and complicated cases of chronic and inflammatory Rheumatism, Liver Complaints, Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Palsy, Piles, injuries from the use of mercury, gonorrhea, and other diseases of long standing, it may be found necessary to take both the Life Pills and the Phoenix Bitters, in the doses recommended.

LETTER FROM T. C. NORRIS.

To Mr. JOHN MOFFAT—Sir: I take pleasure in offering you my grateful acknowledgments for the box of Life Pills and bottle of Phoenix Bitters you sent me. By the use of this medicine, under the blessing of a kind Providence, I have been relieved from a distressing diarrhoea of about four months continuance. I had taken but twelve or fifteen of the pills when my complaint was removed. I have occasionally used the bitters, and value them highly, but think the pills have been the efficient cause of the change in my condition.—Let me add, that such is my confidence in the efficacy of this medicine, that I recommend it to strangers, as to acquaintances and friends, and say, as I speak of it, that I consider it above all price.

I know of many who have received important benefits from the use of your "Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters," and am confident, were your medicines generally known, they would to a great extent, prevent the use of deleterious medicine. With my best wishes for your prosperity and usefulness in the community, I am, sir, respectfully yours. &c. T. C. NORRIS, 236 Bleeker street.

LETTER FROM R. H. HUGH.

New York, December 15th, 1836.

To JOHN MOFFAT, Esq.—Dear Sir: I have found your Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters of such benefit, that I cannot help expressing a wish that others should be benefited also.—After taking only part of a box of Pills, and a small bottle of Bitters, they cured me of the rheumatism and dyspepsia, both of which I had been troubled with for two years, and had tried many things; but nothing gave me any relief until I took your Pills and Bitters.—My boy, nine years old, had a breaking out which lasted him for eighteen months, and although we tried many things, he got no relief until he took your Pills, and in twenty days he was perfectly well, and cured—and has had no return since, which has been six months. I have recommended them to a girl that is troubled with the scrofula; she has taken them about two months, and is nearly cured. I must say the Pills and Bitters are the best medicines I ever took, and I think no family should be without them.

Please send by the bearer a box of Pills and a bottle of Bitters. Yours &c.,

BROOKLYN, JULY 26, 1836. To Mr. M. Cheney.—Sir: I wish you to send me a box of Dr. Moffat's Vegetable Life Pills and a bottle of Phoenix Bitters. For 5 years and upwards, I have been afflicted with dyspepsia and costiveness, and am perfectly relieved by the use of this medicine. I have an exceedingly high opinion of its good qualities and am willing at any time to certify to the same, should it be a benefit to others thus afflicted. LEWIS STOLL.

To Mr. MOFFAT—Sir: Having been long afflicted with Erysipelas, and having made use of many medicines and had the advice of good and experienced physicians, without receiving any permanent benefit, I deem it an act of justice to you and the public, to state that I was entirely cured by the use of your Vegetable Life Pills. I have recommended them to others, and in every case they have had the desired effect. Yours respectfully,

ANNA HARDY, 19 Sixth Avenue.

THE Matchless Sanative.

INVENTED by the immortal LOUIS FRON GOELICKE, M. D., of Germany, Europe, is astonishing the WORLD with its mighty victories over many fearful diseases, which have been pronounced incurable by physicians in every age, being the most VALUABLE MEDICINE, and the most unaccountable in its operations of any ever prepared by human hands; a medicine, obtained equally from the animal, mineral and vegetable kingdoms, thus possessing a THREE-FOLD POWER;—a medicine, of more value to mankind than the united treasures of our globe, and for which we have abundant cause to bless the beneficent hand of a kind Providence; a medicine, which begins to be valued by PHYSICIANS, who have heretofore opposed it, who are daily witnessing its astonishing cures of many whom they have resigned to the grasp of the DEATH-ANGEL, and who have thoroughly filled the great vacuum in the Materia Medica; and thereby proved itself to be the CONQUEROR OF PHYSICIANS.

Done of the Sanative, for adults, one drop; for children, a half drop; and for infants, a quarter drop. The directions explain the method of taking these portions, and contain a history of the Medicine and its distinguished inventor.

Price.—Three and one-third six dollars ($3.50) per half ounce.

It appears by the following information given to the public by Dr. Rowland of this city, that the much talked of Matchless Sanative is indeed what it professes to be an efficient and valuable medicine, worthy the serious attention of every consumptive person.

MATCHLESS SANATIVE.

DAVID S. ROWLAND, the General American Agent for this mighty medicine, (invented by the immortal Goelicke of Germany) has great pleasure in publishing the following highly important letter from a respectable gentleman in New York, which he has recently received, with many others of similar character—also very interesting intelligence from several of his agents, especially in Salem, as will be seen below—which together with the annexed certificate from three eminent German Physicians, must forever establish the character of the Sanative, as being without a parallel in the history of medicine.

Boston, September, 1837.

[Testimony No. 1.]

A letter from H. F. Sherwood, Esq. New York.

Dr. S. Rowland, Sir:—About the middle of July last, I accidentally noticed in a newspaper the advertisement of the Matchless Sanative, for which I perceived you were agent, and which I professed to be a sovereign remedy for Consumption.

As my wife was then fast wasting away with this dreadful disease, and as our family physician was daily and anxiously endeavoring to restore her to health without success, I stepped over to his house and asked him if he had any objections to her taking this new medicine. He replied, that "he was perfectly willing Mrs. Sherwood should take that or any other medicine she might choose, but he thought it could do her no good, as her lungs were rapidly consuming and no human means can save her." Still, as a drowning person will catch at a straw, and the Sanative being recommended by three physicians who had used it in their practice, she concluded to give it a trial. I sent and purchased a vial, which she commenced taking three times a day, giving free indulgence to her appetite according to the directions. By pursuing this course, she suffered considerably for the first eight or ten days. But was shortly able to eat and drink freely, without the least inconvenience.

Within four weeks from her first using the medicine, her feeble and wasted form began to put on new strength, and she has been gaining from day to day until the present moment, to the utter astonishment of our family physician and friends. She is now enjoying a comfortable (though not perfect) state of health, is able to be about the house and to attend church.

Mrs. Sherwood and myself are both fully of the opinion, and so are all who know her remarkable case, that she owes her life to the Sanative alone; and as there are probably many consumptive persons in the United States, who have not yet heard of this medicine, measures ought speedily to be adopted to have it more generally known.

A number of persons in this neighborhood, I understand, are taking it for other serious complaints, with very great benefit.

I think of going to the South with my family, sometime this fall, and in case I do, I will proclaim the virtues of the Sanative in that quarter; for although some of the Physicians are actively opposed to it, I do sincerely believe it saved my wife from an opening grave.

If you think this letter will serve the public good, you are at liberty to publish it.

Respectfully &c.

H. F. SHERWOOD.

Testimony No. 3.

A certificate from three members of the Medical Professions in Europe.

We the undersigned, practitioners of medicine in Germany, are well aware that by our course we may forfeit the friendship of some of the public, but not of our conscience, who are influenced by self-interest motives. We shall refrain from an expression of our opinion, either of the soundness or unsoundness of Dr. Goelicke's new doctrine, we are happy to say that we deem his Sanative too valuable not to be generally known; for what our eyes behold and our ears hear, we must believe.

We hereby state, that when Dr. Louis Olsson Goelicke first came before the German public, as the pretended discoverer of a new doctrine and a new medicine, we held him in the highest contempt, believing and openly pronouncing him to be a base impostor and the prince of quacks. But, on hearing so much said about the Sanative, against it and for it, we were induced, from motives of curiosity merely, to make a trial of its reputed virtues upon a number of our most hopeless patients, and we now deem it our bounden duty (even at the expense of our self interest) publicly to acknowledge its mighty efficacy, in curing not only consumption, but every fearful malady, which we have heretofore believed incurable. Our comment for the discoverer of this medicine was at once swallowed up in our utter astonishment at these unexpected results; and so an amendment for our abuse to him, we do frankly confess to the world, that we believe him a philanthropist, who does honor to the profession and to our country, which gave him birth.

The recent adoption of this medicine into some of our European Hospitals is a sufficient guaranty that it performs all its promises. It needed not our testimony, for wherever it is used, it is its own best witness.

The following valuable Vegetable Medicines stand at the head of all other medicine for the complaints to which it is recommended. If resorted to in season it is said to cure nine times out of ten. "A stitch in time saves nine."

DR. CHAS. HOLMAN'S VEGETABLE ELIXIR.

TAKEN INWARDLY IN SWEETENED WATER.

This Elixir is useful in all cases of pain, if taken inwardly or applied externally.

In cases of common Head-ache, bathe the head and snuff it up the nose; it will generally relieve in a few minutes. Hold some in the mouth for the Tooth-ache, then wet cotton and put it on the tooth; it will generally relieve the pain in a short time.

In cases of pain in the stomach or bowels, by taking from 1 to 2 tea spoonfuls, or by bathing the parts affected, the pain will soon be removed.

When the joints are swelled or pained with rheumatism, rubbing them with this Elixir will relieve pain and bring down the swelling. When a joint is strained, by bathing with the pain will be removed, the swelling taken down, and the strength restored.

In cases of cramp in the limbs, stomach or bowels, this Elixir will remove it immediately. Applied to cuts, bruises, slight burns, or other wounds, it effects a speedy and easy cure.

Blood warts are cured by applying this Elixir. "Weeping Sins" are cured by bathing the part affected several times a day, and wearing a flannel over the same.

People troubled with weakness and pain in their backs, may be cured by bathing with this Elixir two or three times a day. A recent relax is generally cured by taking from 1 to 2 tea spoonfuls two or three times a day for a few days.

Swellings in any part are removed by taking it, and bathing the part affected.

Vegetable Phthisic Drops.

This is a most valuable medicine for the phthisic, and has never failed to help and generally cures, and is good for loosening a hard dry cough, and for those who are inclining to consumptive habits; and is highly valuable in cases of whooping and chin cough, shortness of breath, diseased liver, &c. Diet should be light and nourishing, omitting everything hard of digestion. Dose for an adult, from 1 to 3 tea spoonfuls in a little water—more or less as the case may require.

Bilious Regulating Drops.

These drops will regulate the stomach, turn sickness, cure the common and sick head-ache. For those that are troubled with their food distressing them, may take, after eating, two tea spoonfuls in a little water. Children that are troubled with worms, (age 2 years) may take from 4 to a whole tea spoonful in a little water, sweetened.

Dr. Holman's Nature's Grand Restorative.

For dropsy, coughs of long standing, shortness of breath, nervous complaints, St. Vitus' Dance, &c. &c.

Evening Bilious Pills.

These pills have been long used with great effect, and had in much highly deserved estimation. Adult may take at bed-time from 3 to 6 pills. They will break up colds and throw off fevers, and cure the jaundice, &c.

Indian Eye Water.

This is very valuable for weak and inflamed sore eyes. Add half soft water the first of using it.

Dr. Holman's Improved Castor Mixture.

This is one of the best cathartics now in use, for the following complaints, viz: dysentery, cholera morbus, and for all obstruction in the bowels. Adult may take from one to two table spoonfuls. Children may take the same as of castor oil, for a dose.

Indian Syrup.

The great purifier of the blood, from all kinds of humors, such as cancer, scrofula, &c. Ointment if needed, which has the art of killing and healing all eruptions on the skin.

Vegetable Strengthening PLASTER.

A SURE preventive for Gout, Rheumatism, Pains and weakness in the Breast, Side, Back or Limbs if applied in season. It is also highly useful in liver complaints, dyspepsia, coughs, colds and difficulty of breathing—giving relief by its warming and soothing qualities.

This article, which has been used more than twenty years in private practice—during which time it has proved itself an invaluable article—is now offered to the public of superior merit.

In using this plaster, no interruption in regular habits is required; and it does not render a person liable to take cold—and being already spread upon soft leather, the trouble and vexation attending the spreading of plasters by persons unacquainted with, or having no conveniences for so doing, are avoided.

Persons leading sedentary lives, or those whose business require a bending or stooping position—and consequently are more or less troubled with pains in the breast, side or back—will find immediate relief by applying one of these plasters to the parts affected. Those afflicted with Rheumatism will find most quieting relief in the use of these plasters, as they create a warmth and action to the parts to which they are applied.

The recommendation following is from one of our most respectable citizens:—

SIR—Having been afflicted for many years with pain in my head, neck, and about my shoulders, by what is called "nervous affection," accompanied, as I supposed, with rheumatism, I had made use of many prescriptions, to little effect. Recently observing your advertisement of the Vegetable Strengthening Plaster, I obtained one, which you kindly fitted to the neck and between the shoulders, from which I have derived a quieting relief, and would cheerfully recommend the article to persons who are afflicted with similar complaints.

Respectfully,

American Truss

JACQUITH'S PATENT.

THE favorable notice of Physicians, and the success with the repeated instances in which it cures, by using this Truss, have brought to the knowledge of the proprietors, that it is the most reliable and safe instrument for curing the dangerous complaint of Hernia, in all particular, NEW—and embracing the modification of the CONICAL PAD, which has shortly changed the whole treatment of Hernia, and entirely set aside the absurd method heretofore practised.

Recommendation by Dr. Hyde, of Brattleboro.

After several months investigation, and having seen many cases under treatment with the Truss, and other instruments of the same kind, I am undersigned unhesitatingly pronounces JACQUITH'S TRUSS, in his opinion, superior to all other instruments, and a most reliable manner of giving pressure, and relieving the patient from the use of any instrument of the kind now before the public. The principle is a just one—founded on the principle of adhesion, inflammation, and the anatomy of the hernia implicated. And a still more cogent reason for this opinion is—Hernia has been cured by the application of Jacquith's Truss in repeated instances.

DANA HYDE, M. D.

Being afflicted with Hernia (double inguinal Hernia) I procured one of JACQUITH'S TRUSSES and wore it about eight or nine weeks, when I laid it aside, considering myself cured. After a few weeks, feeling a little tenderness on one side, I resumed the Truss as a security against the recurrence of the Hernia, although no herniary tumor had ever made its appearance since I first laid it aside. I consider myself cured. ERASTUS BEMIS.

THAT valuable Real Estate, known as the TAVERN STAND, recently occupied by Elisha Hinds, Esq., and situated in the pleasant and growing village of Hinsdale. On the premises are two small Tenements, which command a high and ready rent, aside from the large and commodious Tavern House. Attached to said Tavern are convenient Barns and an excellent privilege of water, conveyed by aqueducts to every department of the premises. There is also a large lot of land, of choice land as lies in the valley of the Ashuelot—and the whole presents a rare opportunity to the man of enterprise and business.

Terms of payment made easy and satisfactory. For further particulars enquire of the subscriber at Northfield, Mass. or of Mr. Farnsworth Hunt, near the premises.
